Le Grand Cirque* Selects Regus to Meet its Office and Meeting Space Requirements at Grand Boulevard

Convenience, great views and flexibility all keys to Le Grand Cirque selecting Regus for its workplace needs at Grand Boulevard

MIRAMAR BEACH, FLA., (May 6, 2010) – The Regus Group (LSE: RGU), the world’s largest provider of workplace solutions announced that Le Grand Cirque, a world-class entertainment production, has selected several offices at its Grand Boulevard at Sandestin® business center.

Le Grand Cirque selected five offices and 8 workstations at the state-of-the-art Regus business center at Grand Boulevard for key members of its management and entertainment staff. The world-renowned Le Grand Cirque will be playing at Grand Boulevard throughout the summer and possibly beyond.

“We’re delighted to partner with such a globally recognized brand and provide their staff with flexible office and meeting space,” said Kris Elliott, Area Director for Regus. “I’m glad that we could provide them with customized workplace solutions that would meet their unique needs. We’re happy to say that we now probably have the most famous tenants in Northwest Florida.”

“We normally set up mobile offices next to our venues but when we saw the great location of the Regus center – adjacent to our performance venue – and the spectacular views that the offices offered overlooking the site, it was an easy decision to go with Regus,” said Jay Lodge, CEO of Le Grand Cirque. “The flexibility that Regus offers has been an additional benefit as we build our staff in preparation for our shows at Grand Boulevard.”

Regus offers its clients a full range of cost-effective business-ready workplace products, including fully furnished, fully staffed private offices, meeting rooms and business support services. For those clients who may not need a full-time office, Regus also offers virtual offices, which allow businesses to instantly gain a presence in a new market with a prestigious, high-profile business address and local telephone answering and mail handling services. Regus clients typically experience up to a 60 percent saving on their facilities costs over leasing traditional office space.
